Oxydoras Niger Ripsaw Catfish

Availability: Out Of Stock
Call for Price: 011 826 5887

Description

The Oxydoras Niger, widely known as the Ripsaw Catfish, is an impressive armored species from South America. Named after the serrated “ripsaw” edges along its lateral line, this peaceful giant is a favourite among monster fish enthusiasts.

Oxydoras Niger are native to the Amazon and Orinoco River basins in South America.

Oxydoras Niger Ripsaw Catfish are omnivorous, they feed on sinking pellets, meaty frozen foods (like bloodworms and shrimp), and plant matter. Needs a varied diet to support healthy

Described scientifically in the early 1800s as part of the Doradidae family.

Can grow up to 90–100 cm in the wild. In captivity, typically reaches 60–70 cm with proper care.

A true showstopper for hobbyists.

Product Gallery

