Description

Includes a probiotic we call Hikari-Germ:This unique, live (viable), beneficial living micro-organism, in combination with the carefully selected ingredient mix, offers an extremely palatable, high feed efficiency offering.

Scientifically formulated for carnivorous marine fish:Carefully selected marine proteins readily attract most carnivorous & omnivorous marine fish. The abundant, natural nutrients packed inside each pellet offer “just off the reef” color, predictable growth rates and voluminous form, even for captured specimens who tend to be hard to keep.

A unqiue texture marine fish crave:Our proprietary processing allows us to make a rapdily hydrating, easy-to-swallow pellet that is ideal for fish feeding at all levels of the aquarium due to its slowly sinking characteristics
