Description

Bio Elite Anti Stress is used when fish are transported, introduced into a new tank, when their tank is being cleaned, being packaged for travel or when they undergo a tremendous amount of stress and anxiety. Bio Elite Anti Stress can be used for when fish swim against objects in the tank or into the tank itself. In most cases the fish can cause harm to its self and to the other fish in the environment this behavior can lead to bacterial, fungal infections and even death.

Key Benefits:

- *Reduces anxiety and stress
- *Maintains healthy fish skin and scales the natural way
- *Relieves skin irritation
- *Retards bleeding
- *Increases cellular repair

*Regulates mucous production

Use

*When moving fish

*When fish are stressed

*When fish are aggressive and fight

Bio Elite Anti Stress can be used for both freshwater & saltwater aquariums. Bio Elite Anti Stress is completely safe to use with plants, shrimp, stingrays, coral, marine aquariums, clown loaches , hifin pangauis & any other sensitive animals.

Bio-Elite's Anti Stress contains Aloe Ferox, Bach Flower remedies and herbal extracts that calm down the fish without affecting the water quality. It is advisable to use Anti-Stress when fish are very excitable.

Adding Bio-Elite's Anti Stress before a possible stressful time will enable the fish to deal with the added stress more effectively, by decreasing their anxiety levels.

Bio-Elite Anti-Stress does not affect the nitrifying bacteri in both fresh & saltwater aquariums.
