Humphead Glass Fish / Hump Head Chanda

Availability: Out Of Stock
Call for Price: 011 826 5887

Description

The Humphead Glass Fish, also known as Hump Head Chanda (Parambassis pulcinella), is a rare and fascinating species known for its glass-like, semi-transparent body and distinctive hump-shaped forehead. Native to the freshwater rivers of Myanmar, this peaceful oddball is ideal for hobbyists seeking something unique and eye-catching.

*Scientific Name:Parambassis pulcinella

*Common Names:Humphead Glass Fish, Hump Head Chanda

*Origin: Myanmar (Burma)

*Diet: Carnivorous – enjoys live or frozen foods like bloodworms, brine shrimp, and high quality pellets

*Tank Requirements: Well-filtered, oxygen-rich water