Discus Breeding Cone F-1022

Availability: 5

Price: R199.00

Short Description

Description

The Discus Breeding Cone is a trusted tool among professional breeders and hobbyists for successful discus and angelfish spawning. Its tall, cone-shaped design replicates natural breeding surfaces, encouraging fish to lay eggs in a secure and familiar setting.

Crafted from non-toxic, aquarium-safe ceramic, it offers a smooth, durable surface that’s easy to clean after each spawn. The neutral tone and sleek profile blend seamlessly into any aquascape, making it both practical and visually appealing.

Perfect for both beginners and experienced breeders, this cone supports stress-free breeding and promotes healthy egg development. A must-have for any serious discus breeding setup.

Specially designed for breeding Discus.

Smooth surface for egg attachment increases egg hatching potential.

Specially made with ceramic material that enhances aquarium filtration.