Description

Afra Cobue Cichlids are found in deep to intermediate rocky regions, and open waters of Lake Malawi, Africa.

The afra cichlid has an elongate body with vertical blue and black bars. However, there are many different coloration patterns depending on the region the fish is from.

Will accept most foods offered but vegetable matter in the form of spirulina flakes, blanched spinach etc. should form a large proportion of the diet. This can be supplemented with live and frozen foods.
