Description

Hikari Marine A 110g offers superior colour enhancement and active reduction of colour fading.

Contains clam extract which improves palatability, even finicky eaters will love it.

Contains seaweed meal and pure-cultured spirulina to meet the nutritional requirements of plant eating marine fishes, while providing them the nutrient sources they require for good health.

A complete and balanced combination of necessary nutrients including DHA & EPA which help reduce stress associated with life in an enclosed marine environment while promoting proper growth and development.

Hikari Marine A becomes sponge-like rapidly and is easily assimilated thereby reducing waste. As the pellet absorbs water it slowly sinks, allowing feeding at all levels of the aquarium, yet allows you to monitor the eating habits of your fish to avoid over-feeding. Best of all, Hikari Marine A will not dissolve or cloud your water.
